To whom it may concern,

This is a personal reference for Andrea Meszaros of Alkony út 5. Budapest 1121 Hungary

I, Tracey Redmond, founder and director of the Style Coaching Institute® have been a tutor to Andrea from when she first enrolled with our Institute in June 2014. She is currently a student of our Home Study Style Coaching™ Course. In my capacity as her personal tutor, I have known the applicant for a total of 4-5 months.

Based upon her long-distance learning assignments (submitted to me via email) I have found Andrea to be extremely conscientious and always very thorough. She appears to have a keen eye for style and is passionate about image and fashion. She is extremely keen to gain the most benefit possible from her studies and asks relevant and valuable questions to aid her learning. She welcomes and takes on board new knowledge with enthusiasm and passion. Despite English not being her first language, Andrea has great learning ability and I have not observed any detrimental effect upon her studies whatsoever.

I am currently awaiting her final exam paper (expected within the next 6-8 weeks) and I anticipate that she will fulfil her goal of completing the course very successfully and to a high standard.

I believe Andrea has many strengths; in addition to those mentioned above, she also displays tenacity, exceptional motivation and work ethic, and she appears to be very well-educated in fashion design. I am of the opinion that Andrea is a devoted student who applies herself wholeheartedly to whatever challenge she wishes to overcome.

Yours sincerely,
